Vegetable Compound,

A POSITIVE CURE

FOR ALL FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

This preparation, as its name signifies, consists of Vegetable Properties that are harmless to the most delicate invalid. Upon one trial the merits of this Compound will be recognized, as relief is immediate; and when its use is continued, in ninety nine cases in a hundred, a positive and permanent cure is effected, as thousands will testify. On account of its proven merits, it is to day recommended and prescribed by the best physicians in the country.

It will cure entirely the worst form of falling of the uterus, Leucorrhœa, Irregular and Painful Menstruation, all Ovarian Troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Floodings, all Displacements and the consequent spinal weakness, and is especially adapted to the Change of Life. It will dissolve and expel tumors from the uterus in an early stage of development. The tendency to Cancerous Humors there is checked very speedily by its use.

In fact, it has proved to be the greatest and best remedy that has ever been discovered. It permeates every portion of the system, and gives new life and vigor. It removes faintness, flatulency, destroys all craving for stimulants, and relieves weakness of the stomach.

It cures Bloating, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Sleeplessness, Depression and Indigestion. That feeling of bearing down, causing pain, weight and backache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will at all times, and under all circumstances, act in harmony with the law that governs the female system.

EXCITEMENT AND STRONG PARTY FEELING IN PARLIAMENT.

LONDON SOCIETY AND LONDON GAIETY—NILSSON—RICHTER—BERNHARDT.

LONDON, June 19.—There has been Guerilla politics throughout the week. Mr. O'Donnell's attack on M. Challemel-Lacour creates sympathy, and insures him a friendly reception which would otherwise be withheld. Mr. Gladstone's attempt to suppress discussion is regarded by his own party as hazardous and liable to be drawn into a precedent, disclaimers notwithstanding. Party and personal feeling on this and other questions runs higher than ever, but the really important domestic event is Sir Wilfrid Lawson's triumph yesterday when the House of Commons affirmed the principle of local option by a majority of 23. It is improbable that legislation can be perfected this session, but the temperance men justly regard this vote as a substantial triumph.

LONDON GAIETY AT ITS HEIGHT.

The London world, despite the political excitement, devotes itself to amusement. The most brilliant part of the season—the interval between the Ascot and Goodwood races—is now being observed in the usual manner. The presence of the King of Greece increases the number of festivities. More houses are open, and there are more balls and dinners. The parks, gardens and all places of amusement are filled daily and nightly.

MR. LOWELL A GENERAL FAVORITE.

Mr. Lowell continues the idol of London society, and is literally overwhelmed with invitations, both public and private. He appeared this week at two public dinners; his speeches making a great impression. He attends the Newspaper Press Fund dinner tonight; the Duke of Manchester will be in the chair. Earl Granville is reported as saying that he has met no Minister with whom business is more agreeably, promptly and thoroughly transacted.

RICHTER OVERRATED.

American critics studying Richter declare that he is a greatly overrated conductor. They affirm that his concerts, which are regarded here as superior to anything known, would rank in New York quite second rate.

BERNHARDT'S SUCCESSES.

At Sarah Bernhardt's benefit on Wednesday afternoon she played for the first time in London Posthumia, in "Rome Vaincue," a blind woman of ninety, and also as Jean Marie. Many intending spectators were obliged to be present at Guildhall luncheon to the King of the Greeks, including the King himself, the Prince and Princess of Wales, and Minister Lowell, for whom a box was reserved. Posthumia produced an extraordinary sensation, revealing the range of the artist's powers, and the direction of her tragic genius. She played with unsuspected physical force.

NILSSON NOT COMING.

I regret to be obliged to announce at Madame Nilsson's request that her proposed journey to America this year is abandoned. Negotiations with Mr. Mapleson are suspended, and Madame Nillson has no intention to renew them. She fully intended and greatly desired to revisit America, and profoundly regrets her inability to arrange satisfactory terms. I understand the difficulty arises not from the terms, but from Mr. Mapleson's inability or unwillingness to give a sufficient guarantee.

SOCIAL AND LITERARY NOTES.

Bret Harte lectures on Monday on the "Argonauts," in aid of Victoria Hospital. The lecture is announced oddly, as "under the patronage of various distinguished personages—The Duke of Edinburgh, the Princess Louise, the Duchess of St. Albans and the American Minister." Americans are criticising freely an American acceptance of this English custom. Anthony Trollope is about quitting London and giving up his house. He will live henceforth at his country house in Sussex. A farewell dinner will be given him at Greenwich on Thursday by George Smith.

NEWS OF THE CAPITAL.

THE DEFALCATION.

WASHINGTON, June 20—Evening.—The defalcation in the Surgeon General's office is more serious than was reported. One thousand deficit has already been discovered.

THE INDIANA OCTOBER ELECTIONS.

A. G. Porter, Comptroller of the Treasury, nominated by the Republicans as Governor of Indiana, expresses the opinion that the decision of the Supreme Court forcing the October election, will benefit the Republicans, as it will help to alienate the German Democratic vote.

CONFLAGRATION IN HUNGARY.

THE VILLAGE OF HOMANNA DESTROYED.—A TERRIBLE FIRE RECORD.

PESTH, June 20.—The village of Homanna, in the county of Zemplin, has been destroyed by fire. Many inhabitants were burned and others injured. The famine having raged since the beginning of winter, the misery is indescribable. A thousand and eleven houses were burned in Hungary during May.

A POLITICAL REMINISCENCE.

The Committee on Credentials at Cincinnati will have but two questions of importance to settle, the only contested seats being in New York and in Massachusetts. The New York case recalls to mind the contesting delegations from that state when the convention was held here twenty-four years ago. They were known as the Hards and the Softs, and they were as bitterly opposed to each other as are Tammany and Irving Hall today. They had separate state organizations, separate electoral tickets in the field, and were fighting each other to the death. They came with contesting delegations: the Softs were led by Samuel J. Tilden, John A. Dix, Dean Richmond, Peter Cagger, Judge Sanford E. Church and others equally distinguished. The Hards were led by Daniel S. Dickinson, Judge Comstock, Green C. Bronson, John Kelly, Augustus Schell and others. The Committee on Contesting Delegations reported adversely to the admission of the Hards or any portion of them. Then the late James A. Bayard, the United States Senator from Delaware, moved that the contestants be admitted half and half, seventeen votes each, and that the alternate vote be cast alternately by each faction. The motion was carried by an overwhelming majority. Buchanan was nominated, and the result of the compromise in the convention was that the Hards and Softs went home to New York, withdrew their separate electoral tickets, united upon a single ticket, dissolved their separate State Central Committees and elected one other; united they went in and gave the electoral vote of the state to James Buchanan. Whether this convention will be able to harmonize the political difficulties in New York remains to be seen.

CURRENT NEWS

AT HOME AND ABROAD.

MEXICAN INDIANS AND THIEVES.

Secretary Evarts has telegraphed the American minister in Mexico to endeavor to obtain permission from the Mexican authorities for United States troops to cross the borders in pursuit of Victoria and other Indians who have taken or may hereafter take refuge in Mexico to elude capture. It is believed the request will be granted, as the Mexican Government has repeatedly shown readiness to co-operate with this Government in efforts to break up the operations of Indians and cattle thieves.

THE NEW GOVERNOR OF DAKOTA.

Col. N. G. Ordway, of New Hampshire, now Governor of Dakota, has left Washington for his new field of duty. He proceeds direct to Yankton, the capital, but will spend July Fourth at Central City, in the Black Hills, and before returning to Yankton will make as nearly a complete tour of the territory as the means of transportation will allow. Governor Ordway takes with him to his new home all his family except an invalid daughter.

SUCCESSFUL FISH-HATCHING.

The Government is having great success with its fish-hatching establishment at Washington, and this season has already hatched out nearly twenty millions of shad. Of these fifteen millions have been turned into the Potomac.

THE ARCTIC EXPEDITION.

Secretary Ramsey has ordered the crew of picked men that had been gathered here from various points for service on the proposed Arctic voyage of the Gulnare to return to their ports, as the Gulnare is unfit for service.

A DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN DOCUMENT.

The Democratic Campaign Committee is preparing a campaign document for the purpose of coaching the stump speakers. It will contain extracts from leading Democratic speakers, skipping a good many of the hard points.

A LETTER FROM MR. SEYMOUR.

The Cincinnati Enquirer says its editor has received a personal despatch from Horatio Seymour, and that it violates no confidence in printing the following extract: "I cannot accept the nomination if it is made, under any circumstances. I am not able to do the duties of my office. I hope my name will not be presented at Cincinnati in any way. I have never said I would accept a nomination, nor have I knowingly intimated I would. I rely upon you to set me right with the delegates."

A STORY ABOUT GEN. GARFIELD.

The story that an American eagle alighted upon General Garfield's house when the roll call at the Chicago Convention approached the thirty-sixth ballot, is true. A child of ten years, playing in the yard with a nurse, came a rushing into the house, saying, "Oh, papa is going to be nominated surely; there is an eagle on the house." At least if it was not an eagle it looked very much like one. In referring to this subject Garfield is reported to have said that he was never superstitiously inclined, but is much better pleased with what he considers the agreeable significance of the incident, as it happened, than he would have been had it taken the shape of some more gloomy and forbidding augury.

THE TOURJEE EXCURSIONISTS.

The steamer Ethiopia of the Anchor Line sailed from New York at 1 P. M. Thursday, having on board the Tourjee excursionists who were on board the Anchoria at the time of the recent accident, and also a second detachment, who were already booked to go on board the Ethiopia. The telegraphic dispatches gave a slightly wrong impression in regard to the course taken by the excursionists who were on board the Anchoria. A consultation was held at the St. Nicholas Hotel Wednesday morning, and only three out of the whole number withdrew from the proposed excursion, and in these instances there were exceptional reasons. One or two were led to postpone the journey on account of telegrams received from their families or friends, though such a course was in opposition to their own wishes. These gentlemen both resolved to go next year. A third gentleman is to go on a later date the present season. Not a single lady of the party withdrew, nor was there any talk among the ladies of doing so. Of the party booked to sail in the Ethiopia on the 19th every one was on hand in time to go two days earlier, upon notification by telegraph. Others desired to join the party, but all new applications made for passage on the Ethopia had to be refused, for the reason that good stateroom accommodations could not be had for the new comers, the Anchoria's passengers taking up all the spare room. Several who have joined the Tourjee party since the accident and were in readiness to go by the Ethiopia have been added to the detachment which is to sail in the steamer Circassia of the Anchor Line, June 26.

NEW ORLEANS CONGRATULATES ITSELF.

The New Orleans Picayune says: "Seldom in the history of New Orleans has there been a more hopeful feeling in commercial circles than now prevails. Our people are not prone to optimism. The trying ordeal of late years has been adverse to the development of sanguine temperaments. But we now hear on all sides fewer complaints and more predictions of future prosperity than usual.

The prospects are indeed growing brighter every day, and there is justification for even greater anticipations than are pictured. Our chief political difficulties have been settled, and the two races are on the most amicable terms. The port of New Orleans has become the finest in America. A greater depth of water exists at the jetties than is found at either New York, Boston, Philadelphia or San Francisco. We have entered upon an era of railway development in the southwest that will give us all needed transportation facilities. The Houston road is about completed, and the Shreveport line will be begun within a few weeks. The country district in the tributary sections are prosperous. Crop prospects in Louisiana, and indeed throughout the Lower Mississippi valley, are excellent. If all this does not foretell a prosperous future there is no reliance to be placed upon anything relating to human affairs."

DEATH OF THE FIRST CALIFORNIA GOLD MINER.

John Augustus Sutter, the first discoverer of gold in California, died in Washington Friday night. Mr. Sutter was born in Kandern, Baden, February 15, 1803, his name as originally written being Suter. He graduated from a school at Berne, and became an officer in the Swiss forces. Emigrating to America in 1834 he became a trader at Santa Fe, in New Mexico. In 1838 he crossed to the Pacific coast, visited the Sandwich Islands, whence he returned to Alaska, and while voyaging down the coast was stranded in what is now known as the Bay of San Francisco. This was in the summer of 1839. Making his way into the interior he received a grant of land from the Government of Mexico, and in 1841 built a fort and established a settlement which he called New Helvetia. The city of Sacramento now occupies the site. By the Mexican Government he was appointed Governor of the Northern District of California, and when the territory came into the possession of the United States he was appointed alcalde and Indian agent. The first discovery of gold was made while he was enlarging the race to his sawmill, the excavations revealing the precious metal. His laborers now deserted him, gold-diggers overran his lands, and he was never able to recover them. The state of California subsequently allowed him $3000 a year on account of his claims, and at the last session of Congress a small appropriation was made in his favor. He left California in 1873, and took up his residence in Lititz, Lancaster county, Pennsylvania. His name has been given to one of the counties in California.

An informal reception was tendered to Senator Hoar Saturday evening, at Worcester. In a speech of some length Mr. Hoar, after paying a glorious tribute to General Grant as a soldier and Executive, said the happiest moment of his life was when the convention nominated Senator Garfield, whose character and statesmanship he highly eulogized.

The army worms are invading the city in full force. The Boston Transcript says "the Hotel Nantasket, that is to say, the Nantasket version of Young's Hotel, opened Wednesday with sixty new rooms. It is understood that our townsman, Wm. T. Hall, is one of the proprietors of these popular hotels.

The eight hour law, which passed the House of Representatives, was finally defeated through the determined efforts of Senator Withers, Democrat, from West Virginia. It is said at the Treasury Departments in Washington that he saved about a million of dollars to the Treasury by resolutely objecting to the resolution passed by the House requiring the enforcement of the law, which gives a full day's wages for eight hours' work. The resolution would have added at least twenty per centum to the cost of all recently constructed public buildings and works at navy yards. All honor to the man who stood faithful among the faithless who were bidding for votes with money, which was not their own.

A good many towns and cities will be disappointed at the results of the census. Philadelphia expected to turn out a population of a good round million but has to content herself with 850,000. Chicago talked of half a million, but will show by actual count about 475,000. Western towns generally, though showing creditable gains, will come short of the great expectations that have been worked up in the minds of the people. We are not able to say what will be found to be the exact population of Newport, but shall know very soon.

Thirteen years ago this very day the present proprietors took charge of the Daily News establishment. The paper at that time had a small circulation compared with the present, and the outfit was in a somewhat dilapidated condition, the presses and type were so well worn, &c., that they were of comparatively little value, and there was a general conviction that it was scarcely possible to keep up a first class local daily in this city. But by the dint of hard work we still live and in the enjoyment of a steady increase in circulation and advertizing patronage, and with a fair prospect of arriving at old age. We recognize the fact that the success of the paper is largely owing to the fact that our business men have earnestly rallied around it and all classes are combined to give it a generous support. Perhaps we should not speak of ourselves at all in this connection but having thus just entered into our "teens" we can scarcely fail to make mention of the fact.

OUT OF THE RACE.

Samuel J. Tilden has at last discovered that his case is hopeless, and has retired from the field. It is well for him and for the Democratic party that he has done so, for no man who could have been named would have been more easily defeated. But as he is now out of the race it is not worth while to dwell on his merits or demerits as relates to the issue before us. His letter of declination is addressed to the delegates from the state of New York to the Democratic National Convention, and bears date June 18th, 1880. He speaks of himself in this epistle as follows:

Having passed my early years in an atmosphere filled with traditions of the war which secured our national independence, and of the struggles which made our continental system a government for the people by the people, I learned to idolize the institutions of my country and was educated to believe it the duty of a citizen of the republic to take his fair allotment of care and trouble in public affairs. I fulfilled that duty to the best of my ability for forty years as a private citizen, although during all my life giving at least as much thought and effort to public affairs as to other objects. I have never accepted an official service except for a brief period, for a special purpose, and only when occasion seemed to require of me that sacrifice of private preference to public interest. My life has been substantially that of a private citizen.

Having then, in considerable detail, recounted his political virtues and successes, he talks in this wise concerning the last Presidential campaign.

Upon these issues the people of the United States, by a majority of more than a quarter of a million, chose a majority of electors and cast votes for the Democratic candidates for President and Vice President. It is my right and privilege here to say that I was nominated and elected to the Presidency absolutely free from any engagement in respect to the exercise of its power or disposal of its patronage. Through the whole period of relation to the Presidency, I did everything in my power to elevate, and nothing to lower the moral standard in the competition of parties. By what nefarious means the basis for a false count was laid in several of the states I need not recite. These are now matters of history, about which whatever diversity of opinion may have existed in either of the great parties of the country at the time of their consummation has since practically disappeared. I refused to ransom from the returning boards of the Southern states the documentary evidence, by the suppression of which, and by the substitution of forged and fraudulent papers, a pretext was made for the perpetration of a false count. The constitutional duty of the two houses of Congress to count the electoral votes as cast, and to give effect to the will of the people, as expressed by their suffrages, was never fulfilled. An electoral commission, for the existence of which I have no responsibility, was formed, and to it the two houses of Congress abdicated their duty to make the count, by a law enacting that the count, if the commission showed that as final unless overruled by the concurrent action of the two Houses. Its false count was not overruled owing to the complicity of a Republican Senate with the Republican majority of the commission controlled by the Republican majority of eight to seven, the electoral commission counted out the men elected by the people.

Well, we are glad to hear Mr. Tilden's opinion concerning the electoral commission. The country waited for it before the court was organized and has waited ever since. Had the writer of the letter, in describing the campaign, given us a full account of the "ciphers" we should have been better pleased, though he could probably have thrown no new light on that subject as the verdict of the country has already been made up. A few words about the unpaid income tax would have also rounded the picture and given a life-like character to the sketch. Mr. Tilden continues:

Having now borne faithfully my full share of labor and care in the public service, and wearing the marks of its burdens, I desire nothing so much as an honorable discharge. I wish to lay down the honors and toils of even quasi-party leadership and seek the repose of private life. In renouncing a renomination for the Presidency, I do so with no doubt in my mind as to the vote of the state of New York, or of the United States; but because I believe it is a renunciation of re-election to the Presidency to those who think my nomination and re-election indispensable to an effectual vindication of the right of the people to elect their rulers. I have accorded as long a reserve of my decision as possible, but I cannot overcome my repugnance to enter into a new engagement which involves four years of ceaseless toil.

Now that Mr. Tilden has retired the question comes up as to his successor. To whom will his support be given? No one is yet fully able to answer this question, but it is generally believed that Henry B. Payne of Ohio is the lucky man. This is opposed by many on the ground that the candidate should not be a Western but an Eastern and Middle State man. The sentiment is not wholly for Mr. Payne, even in the event of a Western man being taken, as Mr. Hugh J. Jewett has many friends, and it is said the Ohio delegates will vote solid for Senator Thurman. It is known, also, that the friends of Senator Bayard and Judge Field are working hard, and it is very probable these two gentlemen will lead the other candidates on the first ballot. Mr. Hendricks's friends are putting in some very effective work for that gentleman, claiming that it is important to secure Indiana and that he can do that and also get as many votes in New York as any other candidate. He will have the solid support of Indiana and scattering votes from various Southern states. Gen. Hancock will have many enthusiastic supporters from the South, and Mr. Tilden being out of the way, he may get the solid vote of Pennsylvania. The vote of Vermont is his, and it is very likely that he will get other votes from New England. And then we have a whole troop of dark horses. Ex-Gov. English and ex-Gov. Hubbard, of Conecticut; Ben Butler, of Mass.; Speaker Randall, Senator Randolph, ex-Gov. Parker, etc., etc. The contest is to be a severe one and the outcome is as yet, altogether problematical.

Their store is a museum of rich and rare wares and one of the attractions of Newport. A visit to the establishment will well repay all our readers.

—Mr. Charles H. Russell, one of our oldest and most respected summer residents, is ill at his cottage on Narragansett avenue. He took a sudden cold a few days ago. His case is represented as being critical, owing to his advanced age. His family physician, Dr. Lewis Fisher, of New York, and Dr. F. H. Rankin are in attendance.

EVANGELINE.—Only a fair sized audience was present at the Opera House Saturday evening to witness the unique entertainment given by Rice's Evangeline Company. The company has somewhat changed since its last appearance, but on the whole an improvement is visible. Louisa Searle as Gabriel, and Mlle. Jarbeau as Evangeline, were new to the public, in those positions, but they proved very successful, giving far better singing than burlesque artists are expected to. Mlle. Jarbeau has a full, clear mezzo, and Miss Searle a soprano of good range, and both show cultivation. In action they were sprightly and pleasing. George Fortescue as Catharine, was supremely and absurdly funny; and Harry Hunter (the Lone Fisherman), and Richard Golden (Le Blanc), were as good as ever—which is saying much. The other characters were excellently taken. The chorus did good work, and the orchestra deserves credit.

BLOCK ISLAND.

Sword fishing has come to be quite an enterprise among our fishermen here, the one meeting with the greatest success being the smack Hattie Rebecca, Capt. L. A. Dodge, having on hand no less than seven, all of them having been caught since their last shipment on the 16th inst. This sort of fishing has come to be quite a sport among many of our visitors, who seem to enjoy it to an unusual degree.

The new steamer, G. W. Danielson, is becoming more popular daily among our people, and in fact, by some who at first were inclined to deride the enterprise to a considerable extent. The daily mail which she brings to us cannot be too much appreciated.

The Adrian House, one of the oldest and most popular houses here, is being quite largely patronized this season, more especially from the transient travel.

TO NEWPORT IN SEVEN HOURS.

FAST TIME OVER THE LONG ISLAND RAILROAD.—A PLEASANT RIDE.

[Telegraphic Cor. N. Y. Herald.]

NEWPORT, R. I., June 19, 1880.

The Long Island Railroad Company has made it possible to leave New York in the afternoon and reach this queen of watering places before bedtime. Hitherto the means of reaching here have been pleasant enough if one wanted to spend the night on the water, but otherwise the trip was generally a tedious and uninteresting one. The present program of the Long Island Railroad, if carried out, as it may be expected it will be from the character of the management, is one that will bring Newport within six hours of New York. The first train over the road left Long Island City today at one o'clock, and reached here at half-past nine this evening. That would make the trip eight hours and a half, but in that time must be included a full hour that was lost at Greenport by some disarrangement of the steamboat dock. This, however, will be immediately remedied, and the trip will be made daily, commencing Monday, in about seven hours. The train today was composed of an express mail car, a first class passenger coach and three palace cars. Of course, being the first train over the line, there were not many passengers expected, but outside of those ladies and gentlemen who were the guests of the road there were eighteen bona fide paying passengers, which fact the conductor announced to General Passenger Agent Laffan with great gusto.

SPEEDING THROUGH LONG ISLAND.

The train was drawn by a powerful engine, and sped over the ground at the rate in some places of fifty miles an hour. From Long Island City to Greenport is ninety-seven miles, and the track has been newly ballasted and steel rails laid almost the entire length. Gangs of men were noticed working at several points as the train flew by, and the fact was ascertained that they were busy laying more steel rails. The train made excellent time and shot by the stations amid the salutations of the natives, who were wild with delight at the idea of living on a trunk line. Farm houses, villages, fields of waving grain, acres of sand, encampments of the army worm, all swept by at lightning speed, as mile after mile was added to the tally list. There were a small number of stops made, and the train entered Greenport on time to the minute.

HAPPY GREENPORTERS!

Here the steamer Frances, of the Eastern Navigation Company, was found in waiting, decked in bunting and fresh with new paint. The day seemed to be a gala one with Greenporters. Large crowds of people were assembled at the depot to witness the arrival of the first "New York express." The Frances is a boat that formerly belonged to the Stonington company, but her interior is so much changed as to make it a great question whether her former owners would recognize her. She also proved herself a good sea-boat today, for the water was not of the quietest. Especially was this so when coming around Point Judith, where most of her passengers sought the seclusion that the staterooms granted. The Frances left Greenport dock about an hour later, and, with head winds and a laboring sea, she reached here, as stated above, about half-past nine. Beyond the slight delay, the inauguration of this new Newport and New York line was a most complete success.

A FASHIONABLE WEDDING.

Christ Church, a pretty Gothic edifice, embowered amid grand old trees, half-way up the hill overlooking New Brighton, Staten Island, and the Upper Bay, New York, was the scene Friday afternoon of a wedding ceremony that was witnessed by a brilliant assemblage of guests from New York, Baltimore, and other cities. The groom was Mr. Charles E. Lewis, formerly of Baltimore, but now a broker in New York, and the bride, Miss Jane Perry Hone, daughter of John Hone, Esq., of New Brighton, and granddaughter of the late Commodore M. C. Perry, of this city. Mr. Hone formerly resided in Morristown, is the son of the late John Hone, and a member of the old New York family of that name. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. C. Fiske, assisted by the Rev. George D. Johnson; Mr. Gilmour, of Baltimore, acting as best man. The ushers, who were in simple morning costume, were Mr. T. Lewis, the groom's brother; Mr. August Montant, Mr. John R. Travers, Mr. Charles King, and Mr. Oliver H. P. Belmont. There were no bridesmaids, but the bride was attended by her sister, Miss Maria Kane Hone, and given away at the altar by her father. After the ceremony, the guests assembled at the residence of the bride's parents, where a wedding collation was served under the superintendence of Pinard, and, after offering their congratulations, passed the three hours usually allotted to wedding receptions in admiring the presents, among which were magnificent sets of jewelry and silverware, together with beautiful objects of art, and many an heirloom of social life in the olden times. The table bore the decoration of a slipper, in white satin, but there was no profusion of floral display, and the entertainment was very quiet and unostentatious. Among those who attended the reception and the ceremony were Mr. Robert S. Hone, Mr. Robert G. Hone, Mrs. Horace Fuller, Mr. F. D. P. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. August Belmont, Mr. August Belmont, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Howland, Mr. Charles Jackson, Major Gen. Samuel W. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Delafield, Mr. and Mrs. Charles De Rham, Jr., Mrs. Edward Jones, Mr. Giraud Foster, Mr. J. Hone Foster, Mr. Albert E. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. John Hone, Jr., Mr. J. Walter Wood, of Morristown, Mr. Edward Taylor, Miss Perry, Miss Benson, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Emmett, and many other distinguished people. The parties set out on their wedding tour after the reception was over, and on their return will take up their residence in New York.

THE GARBAGE QUESTION.

To the Editor of the Daily News:

Having been a constant reader of the News for a long time, and particularly since the first Tuesday in this month, I am prepared to state from my own observation, and under the authority of our city clerk and a member of the Committee on Streets and Highways that the News is in error wherein it states in the editorial column of the issue of the 17th inst, "That the advertisement for proposals for the collecting and removing of garbage was inserted in its columns; the award made and publicly announced as provided by the City Council, and the whole arranged in a fair and equitable manner." You are decidedly in error, Mr. Editor. No such advertisement has been inserted in the News this season and your correspondent justly complains that the Committee on Streets and Highways ignore the interest of of our tax-payers when they in direct violation of a resolution passed by the City Council to award all contracts to the lowest bidder, coolly contract with a preferred party at a price of $200 per year, over and above that which an honest competition would have enabled them to have the work done for.

Your correspondent simply asks that all public works be awarded by contract to the lowest responsible bidder, and not as heretofore to a select person. "A fair field and no favor," is the motto of the SECOND WARD.

THE EDISON ELECTRIC LAMP.

The newspapers have been so absorbed in politics for several weeks past that little has been said about topics to which much space was devoted a few months since. One of the subjects which have fallen into abeyance is the Edison electric lamp. The silence in regard to it has given the gas companies heart of grace, and some of them have put up their prices and convinced themselves that the electric lamp will turn out a failure after all.

The gas companies are, we believe, reckoning without their host. Experiments, it is true, are still going on at Menlo Park, but those are only to improve details. The company is preparing machinery for the construction of lamps on a large scale, and expects within three months to turn out 1000 lamps a day. That does not look as though the company considered the scheme a failure. If extravagant statements have been made as to the lamp it does not appear that Edison or those at his back are responsible for such statements. Some newspapers have announced that the lamp was indestructible. In fact, the average life of a lamp is about 500 hours steady burning. A lamp which burns as long as this is a valuable thing, for it would last about three months, inasmuch as taking the average of the whole year, gas or artificial light is not used more than five hours a day. And as each lamp costs but twenty-five cents, putting a live lamp in place of a dead one would not be a heavy tax on the consumer.

But the inventor is not content with a lamp which will burn 500 hours. He is confident that he can do better than that and his experiments are now devoted to that object and to determining the best possible substance for the carbon horseshoe. In a word, the situation is this: The company for which Edison has been acting considers the invention sufficiently complete at present to ensure a good profit, and from the pecuniary point of view is content to put the electric lamp into practical operation at once. But Edison, desirous of making the lamp as perfect as possible, wants further time for experiments. And the fact that the capitalists behind him are willing to give him that time show that they have entire faith in him.

The electric lamp, as our readers are aware, is not the only thing to which Edison is giving his attention. He is much absorbed in an electric engine which shall propel trains at the rate of at least fifty miles an hour, without noise, smoke or cinders. But this electric locomotive is one of Edison's amusements only. The work to which he is chiefly devoted is the electric lamp. And the success of this there seems no reason to doubt.—[The Mail.

Only a small part of the rumors that have come to us respecting the Seekonk race require to be believed in order to prove the demoralizing effects of such contests. If these reports have any shadow of truth in them, some sporting men bet on nearly a sure thing in some instances. At any rate, they guessed with exceeding accuracy how the competitors would come in on the home stretch, excepting Hanlan. The latter exhibits his best points when he is only rowing against one man. In a regatta he is not so much at home.—[Boston Transcript.

The biggest brute in the small state of Delaware is a farmer who lives near Bridgeville. He mislaid his pocketbook, containing a little over $6, and accused his hired man, Ezekiel, of stealing it. Ezekiel said he didn't. The farmer insisted that he must have done so, and, calling two of his neighbors to his assistance, he tied Ezekiel's hands, placed a rope around his neck, throwing the other end over the limb of a tree, and with many oaths threatened to hang him. In order to emphasize his remarks he gave the rope an occasional pull. Finally after tying him to the fence and threatening to shoot him if he attempted to escape, the farmer went into the house and found the pocketbook just where he had left it.

The family of summer residents at Newport, one member of which directed the census enumerator to put down "refused" against the questions which the law required to be put, has avoided prosecution by causing the enumeration to be made in New York city. It is explained that the gentleman who refused information, and who announced his own name and official position with great impressiveness was a casual visitor, and not actually a member of the family whose name he bears. This gentleman and an ancient maiden from Ireland were the only persons who gave the enumerators sufficient trouble to require an official report.—[Prov. Journal.

The proportion of oil held in the emulsion is fifty per cent.; the finest Turkey Gum Arabic and the purest White Sugar are the other ingredients employed in its manufacture.

SUNDRIES.

You often hear of a man being in advance of his age, but you never heard of a woman being in the same predicament.

"Who was the meekest man?" asked a Sabbath school teacher. "Moses." "Very well, who was the meekest woman?" "Never was any."

The number of one-armed young men seen driving out with young ladies these summer evenings is truly appalling. An old soldier at our elbow says that one arm is invariably lost during an engagement.—[Lockport Union.

Garfield, among his friends at home, is generally regarded as a tolerably decent and respectable man. But before the campaign is over if he does not find that he was a pirate when a boy, stole a railroad, is a fugitive from justice and a horse thief who murdered his mother for her jewelry, he may consider himself reasonably lucky.—[New Orleans Picayune.

A Sheffield manufacturer is reported to have told his workmen to vote just as they pleased—"in fact I shan't tell you how I am going to vote," he said. "After it is over I shall have a barrel of beer brought into the yard." ["Hear, hear," shouted the men.] "But I shan't tap it unless Mr. Wortley, the Tory candidate, gets in."

Editorial remarks of the London Times on the Chicago nomination—"The Republican, or Locofoco party in the United States, have nominated Chester A. Garforth, Esq., of Ohio, Illinois, as their candidate for the Presidency, to replace Mr. Rutherford B. Hawes, who has been impeached for habitual inebriety. This nomination is conceded to be a severe blow to the prospects of the Whig, or Democratic party, who now hold the administration of affairs, and who are under the leadership of Mr. W. G. Tilden, the Governor of Grammercy territory, which lies at the confines of the Swanee and the Salt rivers."—[Puck.

PUBLIC LAWS OF RHODE ISLAND.

Passed at the Adjourned May Session, 1880.

CHAPTER 834.

AN ACT in amendment of Chapter 231 of the General Statutes, "Of Forging and Counterfeiting."

(Passed June 9, 1880.)

It is enacted by the General Assembly as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1 of Chapter 231 of the General Statutes, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

"SEC. 1. Every person who shall falsely make, alter, forge or counterfeit, or procure to be falsely made, altered, forged or counterfeited, any public record, or any writ, process or proceeding in any court of justice in this state, any certificate or attestation of any judge, justice of the peace, warden, notary public, clerk of any court, town clerk, city clerk or other public officer, in any matter wherein such certificate or attestation may be received as legal proof, any charter, deed, will, testament, bond or writing obligatory, letter of attorney, policy of insurance, bill of exchange, promissory note, order, acquittance, discharge for or upon the payment of money or delivery of goods, or any acceptance of a bill of exchange, or any endorsement, assignment or guaranty of any bill of exchange or promissory note, or any certificate, or accountable receipt for money, goods, or any other thing, or any warrant, order, or request for the payment of money, or delivery of goods, or for the delivery of any note, bill or other security for money or goods, or any lottery ticket, or part or share of any lottery ticket in any lottery authorized by the laws of any state, territory or country, or any writing whatsoever purporting to contain evidence of any debt, contract, or promise, or of the discharge, payment, or satisfaction of any debt, contract, or promise, with intent to defraud, or who shall utter and publish as true, or who shall procure to be uttered and published as true, any such false, forged, altered, or counterfeited record, deed, or other writing afore mentioned, knowing the same to be false, forged, altered, or counterfeited with intent to defraud, shall be imprisoned not exceeding ten years nor less than two years."

I certify the foregoing to be a true copy.

JOSHUA M. ADDEMAN,
Secretary of State.

The horticultural show on the Wednesday and Saturday steamers sailing from New York for Europe has degenerated into a vulgar and ostentatious display, at which even the officers and crew of the steamers now laugh heartily.
